1 Ask 1 or 2 questions

Keep it short. They are walking by. Pick from these.

You say “Did you know it’s enlistment season na on Thursday?”

You say “Are you in the Profs to Pick Facebook group?”

You say “Are you gonna choose your profs?”

Tip Smile. If they stop and answer, go to step 2.

2 Bring them to the booth

That is the whole goal. Do not explain everything.

You say “We have a website with stats for every prof: easy A’s, workload, if they’re strict. Come check out our booth, we’ll show you how it works!”

Do Walk with them to the booth.

Tip If you let them go, they will not come back.

3 At the booth

Let them see their own prof, then ask them to pay.

Do Let them search their prof on the laptop.

You say “₱99 for a semester, ₱150 for a year, or ₱250 until you graduate. Cash or GCash?”

Do Write the code on the back of their pass card and give it. No code? Ask Prince.

Tip Try to not let them go easily. Help them redeem the code right there.

IF THEY SAY

“I’ll come back later.”	“It only takes a minute. This can literally decide if you get good grades for your next sem.”
“Is it free?”	“Reviews are free. The pass adds unlimited AI advisor asks.”
“I don’t like AI.”	“It runs on our own PC at home, not in a data center, so it doesn’t harm the environment.”
“Is my data safe? What about the Facebook posts?”	“Yes. Every review is anonymous. We remove names and anything that could identify who wrote it.”

Anything else: check the Booth FAQ, or ask Prince.
